

Who can use the online application for enrolment?

Germans and applicants with equal status to Germans:

The possibility to apply for enrolment online is available to all applicants for all applicants. Only for admitted students in the 1st semester of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy B.Sc. Regio Chimica, as well as in higher semesters of Master's programmes, this option is not available. In these cases, please use the paper application ("matriculation documents", next section).

International applicants:

The option to apply for enrolment online is available for all applicants.

Applicants who are already enrolled at the University of Freiburg are requested to make a change of subject/programme during the enrolment period. (Application for change of subject/programme for download)

How is the application for enrolment created online?

The collection and processing of the necessary data is simplified by the online application for enrolment application for enrolment.

Please log in at <https://campus.uni-freiburg.de> with the access data of your online application or the access data listed in the notification of admission.

- After logging in, your applications to study at the University of Freiburg will be displayed with their respective status. For applications for which you have received an admission or a valid admission offer, you can - after you have accepted the admission offer in HISinOne - proceed with the application for enrolment.
- The system will guide you step by step through the application for enrolment.
- As soon as you have entered all the data, you will receive the completed application for enrolment as a PDF. Please print out the application, sign it and submit the document and all other required documents for enrolment.
- Your printed application will list any other documents or proofs that are required for enrolment. Please read the application carefully and submit the listed documents in full for enrolment.
- You can find information on the further procedure under Enrolment for German students or Enrolment for international students further up on this page.
